The Art Store News

Dear Bulletin Friends

Here we are again, with the tail end of hurricane “Ophelia” making the trees outside bounce around merrily, and rather a strange light in the sky! But, before too long we will all be contemplating a far more important event, that brought those who saw the light in the sky great joy, and has continued to do so down all the centuries since.

We hope all of you who managed to hear one of Auriel Wyndham Livesey’s talks, this month or last, found what she spoke of as fascinating and inspirational as we did. If you did, and would like your own copy of one of her books, or some to give as gifts, you will find all the details in this Bulletin.

There are also adverts for other gift ideas, and, of course there are adverts for many other valuable services offered by organisations who serve the Movement. Something for everyone! So we close with sending you all our loving good wishes for this very special time of year.

Bruce + Gina

The Ultimate Freedom

by John H. Wyndham

This true, spiritual adventure story begins when the author is captured on the island of Java during the Second World War. The way he finds freedom during his three years of captivity makes for inspiring reading. After the war the author takes the reader on further spiritual adventures to do with employment, income, economic freedom and his work with the United Nations. The author later lectured worldwide, in four languages, on the subject of spiritual healing.

Less Is More (CD)

by James Cook

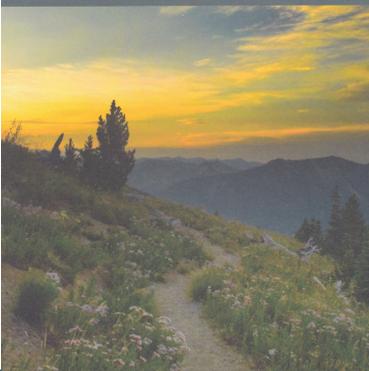

This is a CD of organ music performed by James Cook on the Organ in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Edinburgh. The title draws inspiration from the words of the architect Mies van der Rohe who had a vision that artistic work could be produced with minimal resources. Although the Edinburgh organ has only 8 stops the CD demonstrates that, because of the instrument's quality, integrity and disciplined design, it is capable of handling a wide range of music.

The 23 Tracks on the CD include music by Bach, Handel and Mendelssohn, as well as contemporary British composers Malcolm Archer and Christopher Tambling. Several of the tracks focus on interpretations of two hymns from the Christian Science Hymnal -216 "O he who trusts in God's protection" (tune: Neumark) and 252 "O Word of God, most holy" (tune: Herzlich Thut Mich Verlangen).

Finding a Faithful Few: The Years in Lynn

The morning devotions at the School start with a hymn from The Christian Science Hymnal then a Bible passage is shared with the children and its metaphysical meaning in their lives. They then have a prayer followed by the Scientific Statement of Being (Science & Health page 468) and its correlative scripture from 1 John: 3. The children then sing the Nigerian anthem and The Queens and Kings School anthem. At the end of the school day they have a prayer before going home.

The 27th May is Children's Day in Nigeria. The Queens and Kings celebrated the day on the Friday (26th). They sang two hymns from the Christian Science Hymnal – No.58 which starts "Father, we Thy loving children lift our hearts in joy today" and No.313 which ends "To God, in light abiding, true praise shall tune my voice, for while in Him confiding, I cannot but rejoice." They also prayed with Psalm 127 which includes the words "children are an heritage of the Lord". Each child was given 2 tins of milk and a drink of Coke. One of the teachers had made a large cake which they all shared. The children put on a drama and said recitations. The children marched all around the local area to the beat of the school drum and the neighbours stepped out of their homes to give them support. A happy day!
